

ENGLAND – SOUTHERN YORKSHIRE DALES - MALHAMDALE

8-day / 7-night centre-based at Newfield Hall – one-hotel guided walking tour

Soak up the wonderful scenery, experience the atmosphere of solitude of the heather moorland, and explore picture postcard villages. A Guided Walking holiday based in Malhamdale is an ideal way to explore a land of hills and valleys, of waterfalls, caves and rivers known as the Yorkshire Dales. On this guided walking holiday, there is a chance to ascend Pen-y-ghent and Ingleborough, or enjoy stunning walks in Wharfedale and Ribblesdale. Awe-inspiring Malham Cove was once a waterfall and is now a spot to watch rock climbers scaling the sheer cliffs. You may like to scramble up the rock chasm of Gordale Scar or perhaps admire the more tranquil Janet's Foss waterfall. On your free day perhaps visit nearby Skipton, with its well-preserved medieval castle or the Brontë parsonage in Haworth, or tour White Scar cave, the largest show cave in Britain.

Possible walking routes are decided each day by the walk leaders and may include:

Airton and the River Aire – A circular walk exploring the Aire Valley, visiting the villages of Airton, Malham and Kirkby Malham with its 15th Century church, the 'Cathedral of the Dales'. The harder walk also ascends the moor to the superb viewpoint of Weets Top for extensive views of the limestone landscape.

Through Ribblesdale to Settle – Our walks visit the 1873 Hoffman lime kiln and Catrigg Force waterfall – a hidden gem, situated on a deep wooded ravine – en route to Settle, a picturesque market town first chartered in 1249 and famous for the Settle-Carlisle railway. The harder walk also takes an undulating loop to visit the hidden village of Feizor, following in the footsteps of Elgar who often walked this track during visits to Settle.

Clapham, Gaping Gill and Ingleborough – Walks start and end in the traditional Dales village of Clapham. We pass through the Ingleborough Estate and reach the huge pothole of Gaping Gill, which drops 100 metres into a cavern large enough to fit York Minster. The hard walk also ascends to the summit of Ingleborough, one of the 'Three Peaks' of Yorkshire – views from the top can extend as far as the Lake District.

Wharfedale, Simon's Seat and Bolton Abbey – Highlights of our walk along Wharfedale are the ruins of Bolton Abbey, a 12th Century priory, and the Strid, a dangerous, fast-flowing river in a narrow ravine. On some routes we visit the limestone gorge of Trollers Gill and cross high moorland to Simon's Seat, where we can see as far as the North York Moors on a clear day.

Malham Moor, Tarn and Cove – See the key sights of Malham including the verdant setting of Janet’s Foss waterfall, Gordale Scar, Malham Tarn and Malham Cove, a huge natural amphitheatre of sheer rock faces. Once a waterfall, now the river emerges from the base of the cliff. On some walks there may be the opportunity to tackle the exhilarating scramble up the dramatic rock chasm of Gordale Scar.

Upper Wharfedale and Kettlewell - We walk on varying routes to Hubberholme and its ancient church, with a 16th Century rood screen and furniture by Robert Thompson – ‘the Mouseman of Kilburn’. Some routes continue up the hillside for extensive views down the dale, or ascend Scar House and to the summit of Buckden Pike. All walks end in the charming, quiet village of Kettlewell, which has some lovely tearooms for afternoon refreshment.

Ribblesdale and Pen-y-ghent – Magnificent views are on offer, whether you choose to walk over the rolling hills to Feizor then alongside the River Ribble to Settle; follow the Pennine and Ribble Ways from and back to Horton-in-Ribblesdale with views of the arched Ribblehead viaduct and the Three Peaks; or ascend via Churn Milk Hole to the summit of Pen-y-ghent.

The Dales Way through Wharfedale – Experience the beauty of Wharfedale on this walk through quintessential English Dales countryside. Walks follow the Wharfe, cross moorland and scramble over limestone outcrops or traverse the limestone escarpment. All routes utilise the Dales Way on the final stretch into picturesque Grassington, often described as the ‘capital’ of Upper Wharfedale.
