

FRANCE – HIGHLIGHTS OF NORTHERN BURGUNDY

8-day / 7-nights SELF-GUIDED inn-to-inn cycle touring from Auxerre to Chablis, Avallon & Vézelay

Discover the history, glorious countryside, sensational food and world-renowned wines of northern Burgundy on this independent cycling tour, starting and ending in the charming city of Auxerre. Ride from inn to inn visiting the many small, historic towns and villages, tasting the exquisite wines and sampling the many gourmet delights. The route is not too physically taxing – you mostly follow river valleys and canal towpaths, with a few steep but rewarding hills near Vézelay and during the last stage in the Auxerre vineyards. If the hills are a concern, consider hiring an E-bike (just like a normal bike, but with battery-assistance which reduces the resistance, so you still pedal along but the hills seem to just disappear and the distances seem shorter).

Inn-to-inn self-guided cycling holidays are perfect for exploring France's iconic landscapes. Travelling by bike gives you the freedom and flexibility to see more of the countryside and move at your own pace. You can stop and relax or explore, secure in the knowledge that your room is waiting for you and your bags have gone ahead.

Suggested itinerary:

Day 1: Arrive in Auxerre

Auxerre, only two hours by train from Paris, is a city of art and great history and has conserved much of its exceptional architectural heritage over the centuries: the cathedral, a model of gothic elegance, and the Abbey of St Germain, a near intact monastic complex and 9th Century crypt, housing one of the oldest mural paintings discovered in France, and the clock tower. We recommend you plan to arrive after lunch so you have time to explore the city and take a walk along the banks of the River Yonne.

Day 2: Auxerre – Ligny-le-Châtel

cycling @ 25km

After breakfast meet our local representative for a briefing on the week ahead and to make any adjustment to your bikes. The Cistercian Abbey of Pontigny, the largest and one of the most beautiful Cistercian churches in France, is on your route.

Day 3: Ligny-le-Châtel – Chablis – Noyers-sur-Serein

cycling @ 40km

Ligny-le-Châtel with its Renaissance church and the vineyards and cellars of Chablis, Burgundy's largest selling white wine, are on the program. After wine tasting in Chablis (included in tour cost), follow the beautiful Serein valley through the typical villages of the southern Chablis region to the medieval town of Noyers, an interesting town with its preserved fortifications, half-timbered houses and naïve art museum.

Day 4: Noyers-sur-Serein – Avallon

cycling @ 45km

Today you cycle across the superb "terre plaine" plateau and the mystical Avallon landscapes. You pass by the medieval hamlet of Montréal before reaching the ancient town of Avallon.

Day 5: Avallon – Vézelay

cycling @ 25km

Passing small villages and on quiet backroads you reach Vézelay. One of Burgundy's most famous landscapes, Vézelay offers a challenging climb up cobbled streets to the medieval town centre and its fortifications. The Basilica of Sainte-Madeleine dominates the town and surrounding farmland – a Romanesque masterpiece inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage list. During the Middle Ages, Vézelay was a major pilgrimage centre on the Way of Saint James – the road to Santiago de Compostela.

Day 6: Vézelay – Escolives

cycling @ 40km

Your ride follows the Yonne River valley and Canal du Nivernais today. Pass Châtel-Censoir, with its Renaissance-era collegiate church, and the limestone Saussois cliffs with nesting peregrine falcons to Mailly-le-Château, which has two parts, Mailly-le-Bas by the river, and medieval hilltop village with its 14th Century fortified castle and 13th Century Gothic church. The route passes Accolay, a small village near a series of locks on the Canal de Nivernais. Continue to Escolives where you stay at a delightful winery with 18th Century wine cellar.

Day 7: Escolives – Auxerre

cycling @ 35km

Water is the theme of the day, for here are some of the great rivers of France interconnected with a well-used canal system. You cycle beside the canal through the lovely Auxerre region vineyards and villages: Irancy, Saint-Bris-le-Vineux and Bailly. In Bailly stop for a tasting of Crémant de Bourgogne, the sparkling wine of the region (included in tour price), before returning to Auxerre.

Day 8: Departure day

Au revoir – your biking tour in Burgundy is complete. From Auxerre there are several daily direct trains to Paris, or continue on to other destinations in France.

An extended 10 day / 9 night version of this holiday is also available - please ask for details.
