

ENGLAND – SHROPSHIRE HILLS & WELSH BORDERS

8-days / 7-nights one-hotel GUIDED walking tour centre-based at Church Stretton

The attractive small town of Church Stretton, friendly and welcoming to walkers, is an ideal base from which to explore the rolling Shropshire Hills, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, and the Welsh Borders. There are wonderful walks to the Long Mynd, Caer Caradoc and Ragleth Hill direct from Church Stretton, whilst travelling a little further afield enables a wider exploration of this scenic county, and this guided walking holiday offers a great range of walks in the Shropshire Hills and Welsh borderlands. After the arrival of the railway, in the Victorian and Edwardian eras, Church Stretton grew and became known as 'Little Switzerland' due to the dramatic hills on both sides of the valley. Today the town retains the charm of a bygone era. Our accommodation is in a wonderful location just a few minutes' walk from the lovely town centre.

A typical 'Classic Walking Week' suggested itinerary:

Day 1: Arrival day – we suggest you plan to arrive at your country house accommodation mid-afternoon. From Church Stretton town centre you can walk or take a taxi to the house. Meals begin with dinner on the first night.

Days 2 to 4: Each day there is a choice of up to three guided walks of varying length and ascent. You choose the walk that best suits your ability and fitness. Walks leaders make the final decision on which routes are offered; each evening they will brief you about the walks for the next day and answer questions you may have. After dinner perhaps join in an organised activity such as a quiz or a talk about the area, or relax in the bar.

Day 5: Free day. No walks are organised today. You can relax at the hotel, walk independently, or explore the local area. Perhaps visit Ludlow with its medieval buildings and well-preserved castle, and its reputation as a gastronomic centre, with Michelin-starred restaurants and acclaimed local producers. Or see the many museums of Ironbridge Gorge, 'birthplace of the Industrial Revolution' where Abraham Darby first manufactured cast iron used to build the iron bridge across the River Severn.

Days 5 to 6: Again choose from up to three full-day walks each day; evening social activities.

Day 8: Departure day. Tour ends after breakfast.

Footpath information:

Easier walks: Up to 8 miles (13km) on generally on good tracks and field paths with up to 1350ft (400m) of ascent in a day

Medium walks: Up to 10 miles (16km) with up to 1950ft (600m) of ascent in a day on tracks and field paths, occasionally rough underfoot.

Harder walks: Up to 13 miles (21km) with up to 2750ft (840m) of ascent in a day on tracks, field paths and rugged terrain.

Possible walking routes may include – walks for each day are determined by the walk leaders:

Stretton Hills – Scenic paths around and above Church Stretton. Routes may traverse the slopes of Caer Caradoc, or climb to the summit with its Iron Age hillfort, said to be the site of a British chieftain's stand against the Romans, or 'bag' the summits of all three hills surrounding Church Stretton.

Pole Bank & the Long Mynd Valleys – The great plateau of the Long Mynd rises behind out country house and offers miles of outstanding walking. On these walks we ascend from the Townbrook Valley through the heather-covered moorland of the Long Mynd to its summit, Pole Bank.

Stiperstones – Stiperstones is a rugged quartzite ridge, shattered by glaciation and erosion into a mass of scree surrounding several rocky tors. The area was a centre for lead mining until the early 20th Century; we may see some evidence of this on our walk. Our easy route skirts round Stiperstones, while other walks traverse the full ridge, gaining views over the Shropshire and Welsh countryside.

The Clun Valley – We explore the tranquil Clun Valley on these walks. From various starting points we walk the valley past pretty little Hopesay, with its 13th Century church, and Stokesay Castle, a 13th Century manor house which was besieged during the English Civil War, finishing in Craven Arms, which takes its name from the 17th Century inn. Some of these walks utilise stretches of the Shropshire Way.
