

NORWAY –THE LOFOTEN ISLANDS

8-days / 7-nights centre-based guided walking in a spectacular location

The dramatic scenery and intense light of the Lofoten Islands give them a reputation as one of the most beautiful island archipelagos in the world, and this one-week guided walking holiday in the far north of Norway must be one of our most spectacular. The islands are truly a photographer's delight, bathed as they are in the transcendent light of the 'midnight sun'. The mountains are not high but they plunge sharply and steeply to the sea. Just some 200 kilometres north of the Arctic Circle, the Gulf Stream creates a relatively mild climate here.

During the week we visit beautiful lakes nestling amidst the mountains, walk along the coast and try to spot sea eagles and whales, ascend a few of the smaller mountains and passes, visit charming fishing villages with their traditional rorbu (fishermen's cabins), and take the ferry to the neighbouring islands of Hadseloya, the home of Hurtigruten, and Skrova, with its sandy beaches and panoramic views over the 'Lofoten Wall'.

One-hotel guided walking holidays offer two guided walks each day with a free day mid-week to explore the local area or to relax. There is plenty to do on your free day – take a cruise on the narrow Trollfjord or visit Henningsvaer, a quaint town with colourful traditional houses. Svolvær is home to the Lofoten War Memorial Museum, with uniforms and artefacts from the Allied commando raid to capture the Enigma machine.

Footpath and walking information:

Easier walks: 7 to 11km with up to 350m of ascent in a day, on mostly good paths with some rough and rocky sections.

Harder Walks: 10 to 16km with up to 810m of ascent, mostly on good paths with some steeper and rougher terrain, some pathless terrain and rough, rocky paths.

Suggested itinerary: Our experienced leaders offer the choice of two different grades of walk each day. Choose the option which best suits your interests and fitness

Day 1: Arrival day – plan to arrive at the hotel mid-afternoon in time for dinner. For those requiring a transfer we can arrange these at a set departure time from the airport (at extra cost) - ask for details

Day 2: Svolvaer and Kabelvåg A walk today through Svolvaer with its colourful houses and traditional red and yellow fishermen's cabins called rorbu. We then pass by two major lakes through a landscape shaped by glaciers, beneath or to the top of Svolvaer's local mountain, Tjeldbergtinden, and continue under the shadow of the mountain of Kongstinden surrounded by glacier scraped rock stripped of all vegetation which is so typical of the arctic. We end our walk in the historic town of Kabelvåg, the oldest town in the north of Norway. We have time for a beer or coffee overlooking the harbour, before catching the bus back to Svolvaer.

Day 3: Hills and beaches A morning coach transfer to the Haukland and Utkaleiv areas of the island of Vesvågøy, known for their white sand beaches and turquoise seas against a backdrop of towering mountains. We begin our walk ascending the round, but surprisingly steep hill of Holandsmelen, descending to the farm of Kjellbogen and then following a grassy track and unsealed road to Haukland. Continue along the old road to Utkaleiv and follow the good track round the headland with its coastal views.

Day 4: Free day Take the opportunity to cruise down to Trollfjord, a spectacularly steep and narrow fjord or visit the Venice of Lofoten, the little fishing town of Henningsvaer, perched on the end of a thin promontory.

Day 5: Exploring Apnesfjellet or Justadtinden We travel south-west today to Stamsund, one of Lofoten's traditional fishing ports. The area provides a relatively accessible way for all walkers to reach some stunning viewpoints. The easier walk explores the Apnesfjellet ridge, where, weather permitting, there are views of indescribable beauty, especially east, out to sea, and down to a network of islands. Alternatively we ascend gradually to the col below the mighty summit of Justadtinden and continue round the ridge to the summit of Steindalstinden, walking through a wild upland area studded with lakes and wetland with exhilarating views if the weather permits. Both walks finish at the pub/café in the lovely village of Stamsund

Day 6: Hadseloya Return by coach to the island of Hadseloya, which forms part of the archipelago of Vesterålen. Following a track up the Annstad valley, we come across a series of beautiful secluded lakes. We then ascend on paths to the small hill, Barheia, from where – weather permitting – we are rewarded with superb views of the west coast of the Lofoten islands, the island of Hinnoya, and the mainland mountains. We follow a path down to the small village of Melbu, where we await the ferry and bus ride back to Svolvaer.

Day 7: The Island of Skrova Both groups take the ferry to Skrova today, with its sandy beaches and the best view back to the Lofoten wall (as the islands are commonly called). Skrova has been a centre for fisheries and whaling for decades and is a fascinating island to explore. Both groups circumnavigate the island; the easier route passes beneath the mighty bulks of Hogskrova and Stappen over to Merrvika Bay, while the harder walk ascends the rocky path to the top of Hogskrova, the highest point on Skrova, before descending to Merrvika Bay. Although the mountain rises only 282 metres it is a very steep path aided by handrails. Continuing around the island back to the village where there are art galleries and cafes, before returning by the ferry to the hotel.

Day 8: Departure day Tour departs after breakfast – transfers to Harstad/Narvik Evenes airport are available at set departure times at extra cost; please ask for details.
